1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 7, 10, 11 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter that was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The deletion of cyclic phosphazine from the claims is not enabled by the disclosure See page 6 lines 15-29 which requires its presence.

5. The amendment filed 9 November 2004 is objected to under 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure. 35 U.S.C. 132 states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material that is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows: The deletion of the cyclic phosphazine from the structure of the end group. The examiner considers the cyclic phosphazine to be an integral part of the end group.

Applicant is required to cancel the new matter (i.e. restore cyclic phosphazine) in the reply to this Office Action.

6. Claims 7, 10, 11, and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as based on a disclosure which is not enabling. The phosphazine structure (1) critical or essential to the practice of the invention, but not included in the claim(s) is not enabled by the disclosure. See In re Mayhew, 527 F.2d 1229, 188 USPQ 356 (CCPA 1976).

See page 6 lines 15-29.

Claims 10 and 14 are rejected for their dependence from a claim rejected under 35 USC 112.

7. Claims 7, 10, 11, and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 7, 10, 11, 14 and new claim 16 recites an unclear chemical structure of the group represented by (A) without specific structural details. Therefore there is also insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

8. Claims 15-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shirai et al. US 6730403.

Shirai et al discloses a magnetic recording medium having a substrate, magnetic layer, a carbon overcoat layer and a liquid lubricant of a perfluoropolyether structure having a cyclic phosphazine at the end of the perfluoropolyether structure. Shirai exemplifies a carbon coating of 15 nm thickness and not less than 5 nm. Shirai et al do not disclose a carbon layer formed by an ion beam method. However it was old in the art at the time of the invention to minimize the carbon protective layer thickness in order to reduce head spacing loss while maintaining a sufficient thickness for durability.

Formed by an ion beam method has been given no weight.

Process limitations (as in claims 15,17) carry no weight in these article claims unless they can be shown to produce a patentably distinct article. An ion beam produced carbon layer is an art recognized equivalent to several DLC carbon layers formed by other methods .(See Chen US 6517956 Col 5 lines 17-26 who teach 1-5 nm coatings made by various methods).

Substitution of equivalents requires no express motivation as long as the prior art recognizes the equivalency.

In re Fount 213 USPQ 532 (CCPA 1982); In re Siebentritt 152 USPQ 618 (CCPA 1967); Graver Tank & Mfg. Co. Inc. v. Linde Air Products Co. 85 USPQ 328 (USSC 1950).

With respect to claim 18

It would have also been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to smooth and make the surface of the carbon layer uniform in order to reduce noise caused by vertical head movement during reading.

9. Applicant's arguments filed 9 November 2004 with respect to claims 7, 10, 11, and 14 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive as the claims have been deemed indefinite.

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
